In Memoriam

To those who died in their country's service for the ideals of peace and freedom for everyone. We are forever indebted to them that we might graduate into a world wherein we can use our talents to the fullest for the cause of mankind.

Dedication

*Regal bearing, courteous, kind,
And the noblest sort of mind;
Gray hair lightly touched by white;
Eyes that laughter do invite;
Always looking neat and trim,
Full of animation, vim;
Fair and just to everyman—
That's MRS. EDITH WINNINGHAM*

Our Principal

JUST as an army company is no better than its captain, so a school reflects the character and leadership of its principal. New Hanover High School has been fortunate in one of the finest of principals.

During the past eleven years Mr. Thomas T. Hamilton, Jr., has accomplished much in the development and improvement of our school, which now ranks among the best in the State. The actual school plant has been greatly increased by the addition of the Isaac Bear and Vocational Buildings. Mr. Hamilton has always taken an interest in cultural studies and has expanded our scholastic program in many ways. His enthusiasm in all phases of school activities helps him to be the able administrator that he is. However, his ultimate goal has always been the development of a well-rounded personality for each boy and girl.

In future years, as we often think back over our pleasant high school days, the memory and influence of this friend will stand out clearly in our minds.

Mr. Thomas Tristram Hamilton, Jr.

WE POINT WITH PRIDE

WE HANOVERIANS are very proud of our school. Though our school is only twenty-five years old, we are considered one of the best schools in the South. A great deal of this credit is due to our present principal, Mr. Thomas T. Hamilton. The students of New Hanover High have some of the best equipment and teachers in this section of the country. Thus they leave high school prepared to carry on their studies in other schools.

The requirements for graduation are: Two units of science, two units of math, two units of history, four units of English, and six units of the student's own choice. This makes a total of sixteen units which are required of students graduating from our school.

In the field of science we offer general science, biology, advanced biology, chemistry, physics, home economics and home living. General science touches on all phases of science while biology deals with the study of plant and animal life. Advanced biology is a more thorough study of plant and animal life. Chemistry includes the study of elements, the structure of the atom, compounds, and equations. Physics is the study of motion, gravity, pressure, and electricity. Home economics and home living instruct us in the art of living together socially. In connection with these courses we have two clubs which promote interest in knitting, crocheting, sewing and other handiwork. Any one who takes home economics is eligible for membership. The Taxidermy Club has proved to be a great success. We have one room which is designated for the purpose of displaying students' accomplishments in this field.

Our math department offers to the students two years of algebra, and one year of geometry. It also offers semester classes in advanced algebra, solid geometry, college math, and trigonometry. Students preparing for college will find these subjects a great help, according to reports from students now in college.

United States history and American government are required subjects. For students who took world history in the sophomore year and American government in the junior year, this year a new course, economics, was offered. World history touches on the history of all foreign countries, while United States history deals with colonization and wars of our own country. American government is the study of the organization and appliances of our form of government.

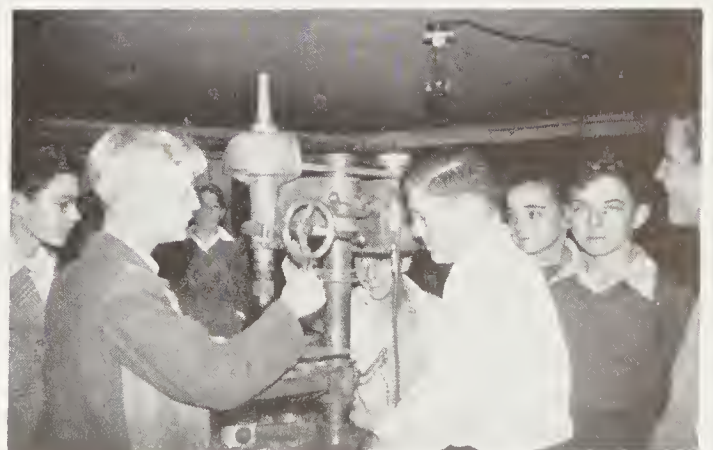

In order to graduate from New Hanover High School, a student must complete four years of English. English is a study of literature and grammar. In connection with this course we have three outstanding clubs: The O'Henry Literary Society has as members anyone taking English and really interested in literature. The programs consist of reading reviews, and reports on contemporary and classic literature. The New Hanover Thespians, a dramatic club, has won equal honors with its makeup, scenery, and direction. Their programs consists of pantomimes, plays and games. Each year they aid in presenting the junior and senior plays. The Dramatics Award is presented at the end of each year to the boy and girl having the best dramatic performance of the year. The Scribblers' Club was begun to encourage creative writing. For several years the club has sponsored the Scribbler's Magazine, produced twice a year. It contains original stories, essays, descriptions, and poems by the members.

The Wildcat, our school newspaper, is edited by the journalism classes every two weeks.

In place of home economics, boys are offered machine shop, mechanical drawing, and electricity. These courses aid many boys in choosing their lifetime occupation.

The commercial classes are divided into two courses, one leading to stenographic work and the other to accountancy. Shorthand, typewriting and bookkeeping are subjects taught in this course.

The language department offers Latin, French, and Spanish. In Latin classes we study legends of ancient heroes. The Latin Club has given the students of this language a better understanding of it. They become familiar with the people who first spoke the tongue, and with their customs. While in the French classes a French student is eligible for membership in the French Club during this first year if he has an "A" average. All second year students are eligible. Programs in French or of French cultural value are planned for each meeting. Games in French are played after the business meeting. The study of the South American countries and the people has brought the Spanish language closer to us. The Spanish Club was organized three years ago to promote further interests in our Latin American neighbors. All second year Spanish students with an "A" average are eligible for membership. All first year students whose average is "A" during the second semester may become members.

The vocal classes, under the direction of Miss Sara Robinson, are most popular with students who are talented and who wish to continue with the study of voice. Each year the Glee Club and Choir present a Christmas program long anticipated by all the students. Their most outstanding presentation of the year was their operetta, "New Moon." Another form of musical study is the orchestra, which is conducted by Mrs. Eric Norden.

The art department makes posters to advertise different school activities. The Baxley Art Award is awarded annually to the students who show the most originality and excellent technique. The Arts and Crafts Club offers splendid opportunities to those who enjoy making things with their hands.

We are one of the very few schools in the State that offer a Bible course. Those who wish to continue religious work will find this an ideal course. The Bible Club, which is sponsored by the Bible classes, is founded on the ideals of the Holy Bible and strives to forward Christian leadership and living.

New Hanover High School has had an R.O.T.C. unit for eight years. We are very proud of our R.O.T.C. because they rank high in the government inspection. We are one of the two schools in the State and of the few in the South to have this kind of military unit. There are four companies and the band, headed by the staff. Our band, under the direction of Lieutenant Lacock, an ex-band leader, is very outstanding in the community and State. The principal purposes of the R.O.T.C. are to build character, improve health, and develop latent qualities of leadership. The War Department furnishes the uniforms and equipment with the exception of a few minor incidental items. The Rifle Club is a select group of the outstanding shooters from the Cadet Corps. Its purpose is to compete in the Corps Area Rifle competition which is held each year. The purpose of the Officers' Club is to promote fellowship, school spirit, R.O.T.C. spirit, patriotism, and social activities in connection with the R.O.T.C.

Our library is one of the largest in the State. It contains 10,500 volumes in addition to many magazines and newspapers. All students who work in the library are required to belong to the Library Science Club. At these meetings all the members are required to make a book report and give a report on a magazine article during a semester.

Courses in physical education are offered to both boys and girls. These classes are taught in the gymnasium. All sorts of calisthenics and exercises are given the students. They learn teamwork and have real fun playing basketball, softball, volleyball, taking track, and other suitable activities.

In athletics we have football, baseball, basketball, tennis, and track. The coaches are: Leon Brogden, Tom Davis, Jap Davis, and Leo Harkins; for junior varsity the coach is Mr. Wallace West. The Tennis Club was organized thirteen years ago for the purpose of promoting this sport in the school. The Monogram Club was organized two years ago and is to be desired, yea, more than much fine gold. Any boy who has earned a varsity letter is eligible for membership. The purpose of this club is to create a better athletic program by upholding high morals and clean sportsmanship, and to see that visiting teams are entertained properly when they visit our school.

The cheerleaders are right there when we have a game, and they are always ready to cheer our boys on. There are twelve cheerleaders, eight girls and four boys.

Our school is run by the students. Each class elects its officers and seven other members of the class to serve on the legislature, which makes up the laws of the school. The executive council sees that they are enforced, and the judicial branch sees that justice is given to those who disobey these laws. Social marshals are elected by the legislature to usher at various school activities.

The highest honor that a student can receive during his school career is to become a member of the National Honor Society. Members are taken in twice yearly from the Junior and Senior classes and are elected on the basis of the four cardinal objectives for which this society stands: scholarship, leadership, character, and service. A student must stand in the upper third of his class.

Another high honor that can be bestowed upon a boy or girl is to be elected into the Hi-Y Club. Members are selected on the basis of Christian character. Only a limited number are selected for membership in the club.

The Declamation Contest is one of the outstanding annual features of the school. It is sponsored by the Lion's Club and the English Department. There are four divisions: freshman and sophomore boys, freshman and sophomore girls, junior and senior boys, and junior and senior girls. Prizes are awarded to the successful boy and girl declaimers in each division.

At the end of each school year a day is set aside on which the students receive recognition for perfect attendance, scholarship, and honors bestowed upon them by school and civic organizations. The letter "W" and stars are awarded in the following sports: football, baseball, basketball, tennis, and rifling. The Foy-Roe Trophy is presented each year to the most valuable football player. The Johnny Schmidt Trophy and Plaque is presented to the most valuable baseball player chosen by his teammates. The Martha Halligan Cup is presented each year to the sophomore girl elected by the sophomore class, who best lives up to the standards set by Martha Halligan. It was first presented to the school in the year of 1943 by the sophomores in loving memory of their classmate. The Helen Bridgers Memorial Cup was given to the school by the Girls' Hi-Y of 1935-36. This was given in loving memory of Helen Bridgers and is presented each year to the senior girl who most nearly measures up to the ideal exemplified by her life. The Joe Schraeder Memorial Cup is presented each year to the most outstanding senior boy by the Boys' Hi-Y. This person is elected by the under classmen, and his name is engraved upon the cup.

The Class of '46 leaves all this behind and their happy memories to the class which comes after us.

Class Poem

*Our heads held high in rich anticipation
Increased by peace—still new—
We leave, Dear School, for heights within our nation,
Our honors, glories—all, reflect on you.*

*In the distance there's an ideal glowing
For each of us—a guide
So molded from your teachings, inspirations
Into a beacon bright with hope and pride.*

*We pray this help that we might reach that beacon
And, moving on, leave the light aflame
To guide those seniors who our paths will follow,
Seeking for themselves the right to claim
A portion of the glory that is yours, O School,
A place of honor for each student's name.*

—SUE NORTON.

Senior Class History

IT WAS in the momentous year of 1942 when New Hanover High School first flung open wide her doors to us. We were probably the greenest Freshmen the school had ever seen. However, in no time at all some of our brighter members discovered that they had been duped into believing that there were elevators to the game rooms on the fourth floor.

We all remember Mr. Hamilton's welcome speech to us and our frenzied searches for our class rooms. We chose Robert Strickland to lead us through our first year of higher education. Soon we had fallen into line with the rest of the school and were doing all we could for the war effort through the medium of the Victory Corps. The end of our first year found us convinced that New Hanover High School was tops and that high school life was swell.

Nineteen hundred and forty-three found us as Sophmores who thought that at last we were getting to be something. That was the year our starving appetites called for two lunch periods. We got the two lunches, but it has taken us almost three years to be certain that we could live through fifth period without collapsing from want of nourishment.

Jane Head became our new president and led us capably through the battles of geometry and Latin, while our brothers and friends fought the sterner battles of World War II.

"What happened to the flag pole?" was the question heard often during 1943. For some strange reason the flag pole reduced itself to a stump. Who can forget the snow men, snowballs, snow fights, and early dismissal that the snow brought? The snow vanished, though, in time for us to have our outdoor May Day Festival which was an outstanding success. So ended our second grand year.

In the fall of 1944 we acquired some additional luster when we became Juniors. Jane Head was re-elected to lead us through another school year. We felt that we practically owned the school; but it didn't take us long to find out that, as far as the Senior steps were concerned, we didn't have top priority.

Our Junior Play was "Dangerous Ladies," a mystery melodrama, with Cynthia Johnson and Joann Plastre in the leads. We all worked hard on the Junior-Senior Prom. "Old South" was our theme, and nothing was too good for the then present Seniors. Our third year now faded into past history.

Now we find ourselves at the very top of the steps. We are full-fledged Seniors proud of our rings, of the coveted steps, and most of all, of our school. We shall never forget the time we "passed out" of the auditorium first or when we opened our name cards to hand out. We still think that the Freshmen grow shorter each year and that New Hanover High School is wonderful. Bill Peters is the President of the entire Student Body. Mary Elizabeth Westbrook is our Class Head.

In a class history we can only set down the big events that have taken place. However, it is the little things we shall remember, things that can not be set down on paper like the thrills of the football games, the exam worries, the locker chatter, and the friendships we have made.

We are indebted to the faculty, to our parents, and to all those who have helped us reach this pinnacle.

Soon we shall separate, all going our separate ways into the brave, new world of peace. No matter where our individual paths take us or what the fates may hand us, we are proud that as a group we were privileged to be called the new Hanover High School Class of 1946.

A Junior Reminisces

GOODNESS but the year has flown! I can remember so well last June; a bunch of boys and girls glancing in, unbelievably at the confirmation of their promotion, commonly known as the report card, and then staring into space. Every now and then the thought behind the far-away look would come out in a long-drawn sigh, "Just think! Juniors!"

Since last June a lot has happened to our class. No longer were we foolish little Sophomores who, as a class, enjoyed no special entertainment at all. Why, we were Juniors, and honestly our whole Junior year has just been loaded with all sorts of fun and, as unsuspected as is unusual, studying. It seems to me that when one becomes a Junior, he attempts to carry out more than ever before his seriously spoken vow to "study more this year, I really will."

Looking back we find one of the most important of all events was that of the measuring of class rings, which were onyx set in gold. Every day for about a week a long line of excited Juniors stretched crookedly through the lobby. I guess we must have kept Mrs. Keith rather busy there for a while. (But we have missed not having her around in the halls to shush us since her resignation at mid-term.) It was terrible having to wait until May to get our rings, but my! how proud we were of them when they finally did come.

When one becomes a Junior he particularly enjoys the privilege of "rushing" the Senior steps. Believe me, we really took advantage of this right, but all attempts to capture the coveted steps proved futile. As I reminisce, one special time flashes into my mind. It was one day last fall when Juniors Dick Hanson, Henry Trulove, Jack McCarley, Rex Willis and Hugh Evans, among others, nudged muscles with the almighty Seniors Jimmy McCarl, Harry Wellott, Joe Gray, George Darden and others. It was really a brave attempt but to no avail, as usual.

How well I can remember when the Chestnut Heights Cafeteria suffered the loss of so many patrons due to pressure being placed upon drivers of cars when it was made known that only six could ride in a two-seater car. Half the population of the high school seemed to endeavor to squeeze into Ebe Godwin's automobile or Earl Godwin's automobile or command car. If the students weren't hanging out of the above mentioned horseless carriages, you would find them spilling over the sides of Billy McEachern's new convertible.

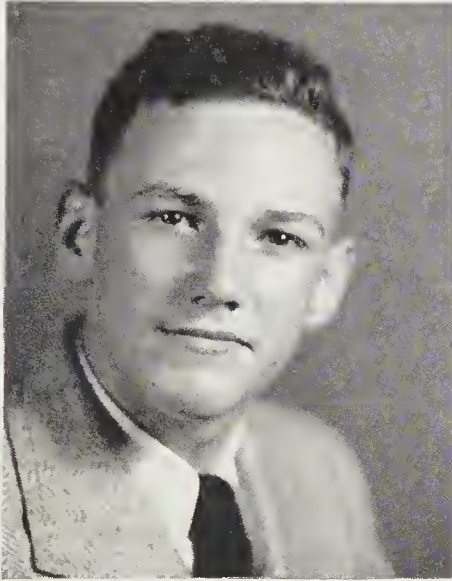

Then our play went over so well. It was presented around the first of April through the labor and guidance of Marilyn Goodman, our Junior Class President, aided by Vice-President Bobby Melton and Secretary-Treasurer Winifred Harriss, and it really was proclaimed a success.

However, our Junior-Senior Prom proved to be one of the most enjoyable highlights of our Junior year. I'll never forget how hard we worked on it to please, rather to try to please the Seniors, and how much fun it proved to be.

I hate in a way to realize that our Junior year is past. It makes me feel kinda old. But I know next year we'll enjoy keeping the Juniors off the steps, which hard work took us three years to call our own; and the prom which will be given for us.

Yes, it doesn't seem so long ago, but now as we look fondly at our reports, the sigh changes to, "Just think! Seniors!"

Sophomore Skyrockets

WE Sophomores are proud that we have proved ourselves to be an important factor in New Hanover High School. The "Sophomore spotlight points with pride" to all its class members who have helped to achieve this outstanding record.

To those whom we elected as class officers and representatives for '45-'46 we give our special thanks. Malcolm Crawford, Sophomore President, has been a dependable leader and has shown us the way to bigger and better things. Another leader in Student Government was that little bundle of initiative and energy, our Vice-President Jean Bobbitt. Rosemary Sweeney also represented us as Secretary-Treasurer.

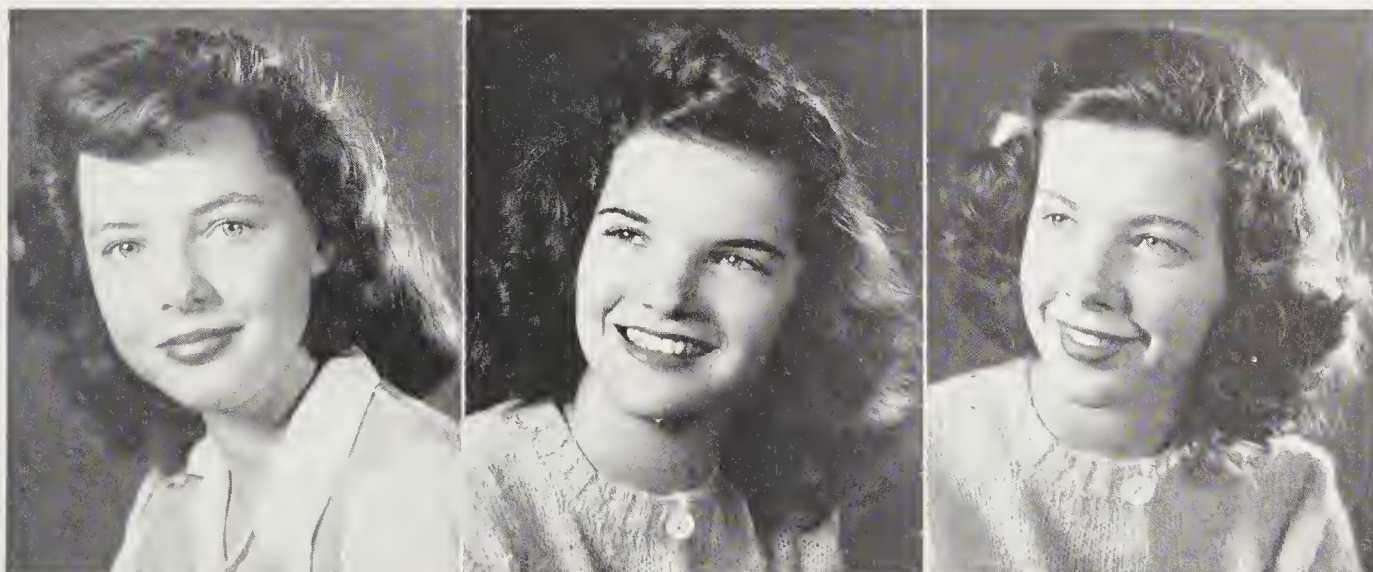

Not only do we excel in politics, but also in sports. Many of our boys have sky-rocketed to fame on the football field; and next year we expect such players as: Gibson, Grissom, Crowley, Haas, Hilburn, Honeycutt, Matthes, and Smith to help New Hanover High School win the long-sought championship. And we must not forget our hard-working basketeers and baseball players. The entire class has helped to build up morale and cheer our school teams on to victory.

This has been the first year for Sophomore boys in the R.O.T.C. We have been proud to see Sophomore Cadets parading around the campus in their uniforms.

Best of all during our second high school year was the informal Valentine Dance we gave February 9th. The gym was really a credit to all those who decorated it. Red and white was our color scheme; and of course hearts, cupids, and flowers were the theme. Little red hearts hung in streamers from the ceiling, and a huge red heart stood in the center of the floor. During the evening Jean Bobbitt and Jim Gibson were chosen as "King and Queen of Hearts."

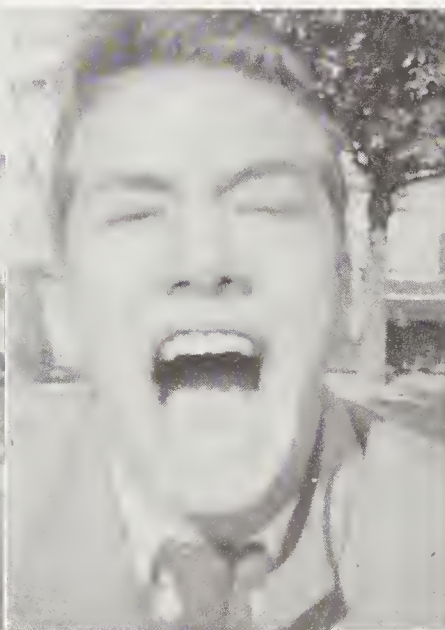

Finally, we have come to the last chapter of our Sophomore year—a year of peace, and study, and carefree gaiety. That chapter is entitled "Exams." This last week will tell the tale. Last year this was a Freshman class, and now we're headed for Junior joys.

Freshman Impressions

- SARAH CLARK: Tomboyish, witty, bobby sox.
LAURA HARRISS: Blue-eyed china doll, hustler, original.
JEAN PAIGE: Sweet and lovely, cotton candy.
JANET VOLK: Bright beach blankets, summer sun, salt sprays.
JANE PERRY: Personality plus, serene, disarming.
JANICE HARVELL: Cuddly kitten, cream puff, pincapple sundac.
HOWARD PENTON: Atlas, dream guy, atomic bomb.
BETTY HILL: Sugar and spice, Goddess Diana, big sweaters.
AUDREY STRONG: Candy-striped pinafores, sparkling eyes.
HOB KEITH: Rambunctious, long, lean and good-natured.
ROBERT MCCARL: Unpredictable, loafers and argyle socks.
RANDY McIVER: Wavy brown hair, sleeveless sweaters.
GILBERT THOMASON: Easy going, dreamy.
JOHN SLOAN: Carefree, cockcyed, wolfish.
RALPH MILLAR: Efficient, calm and wide-awake.
NORMAN GEORGE: Rugged sense of humor, happy-go-lucky.
JOE WARREN: Athletic, russet curls.
LARRY DAGENHART: Roller skates, "Chubby."
BRADFORD CANTWELL: Tom Sawyer, sloppy loafers.
EDITH ROGERS: Tranquility, wistfulness, independent.
MARY PORTER: Knubby knit sweaters, smiling eyes.
NORMA WILLIAMS: Peppermint stick, pantalets and hoop skirts.
IONA CAMPBELL: Golden freckles, beanies, saddle shoes.
GRETA KEMP: Ocean breezes, dimpled dolly, "Little Bo Peep."
CHARLES PARRISH: Hep-cat, loud plaid shirts, dirty saddle shoes.
MARILYN COSTELLO: Bridle paths, clothes galore, walking on moonbeams, smiles.
JO CARTER: Dark eyes, oriental music, princesses and palaces.
DOUGLAS SESSOMS: Small fry, "Little Boy Blue," platinum.

SCHOOL DAYS impressions will remain through the years of all New Hanover High School grads. Most likely these will be included: Latin students repeating the perfect indicative of “fui, fui, fui” . . . Spanish alumni learning the meaning of “Besame Mucho” . . . the cheering squad on Friday morning . . . the Victory Corps collecting Red Cross money in the theatres, seeing a free show in return . . . the daintiness of slicing worms, fish, and cats in biology classes . . . the Terraplane belonging to Eugene Mauney . . . thrilling over the first article made in Home Ec . . . Graham Barefoot pleasantly serving eighth periods . . . going to out-of-town football games . . . singing with the sport teams on a winning night . . . Mrs. Symmes’ “Sh-h-sh-h” . . . The “ezential” facts of American Government . . . comparing the size of Joe Gray to John Hobbs . . . the blue hands and chattering teeth of the R.O.T.C. Cadets coming in from a cold morning’s formation . . . the first high school dance . . . the blaek faeces of the Hi-Y minstrels with the jokes of John King . . . girls coming to school with pin curls and not having a chance to take them down . . . boys spending Friday for brass-shining day . . . students getting eaught on the red light while going and coming from Isaac Bear . . . Vie Sanders wearing jeans to typing class . . . seeing the same skirts on six different girls . . . Jane Head surrounded by boys . . . Edwin Shain sporting his De Soto around school . . . contrasting the twins, Harper and Raynor Newbold . . . Football Smith exploding with witty remarks . . . the Candlelight Services of the National Honor Society . . . Dot Fales accidently emptying bottle of green ink on Miss Formy Duval’s floor . . . peering at the gossip section of The Wildcat . . . girls wearing their big brothers’ figured sweaters . . . learning the A-S-D-F- of typing . . . beach combers spending the last weeks of school, each year, with sun-parched backs . . . the time Mr. Hamilton said, “The Seniors will now retire,” following an assembly . . . waiting for it to snow all during the winter months . . . and last but not least, observing the New Hanover High School beauties on May Day.

THE R.O.T.C. Band, under the direction of Lieutenant E. J. Laeock, had a very busy year. The group played about twenty-five engagements, not counting the R.O.T.C. bi-weekly parades, and also accompanied the football team to Wilson and Raleigh for the games there.

The members of the band, along with the other high school students, participated in a magazine drive to get funds for the new band uniforms which were eagerly awaited all year.

The band has become a part of the school R.O.T.C., taking the regular course from R.O.T.C. manual.

Throughout the year they have striven to accomplish the real appreciation of music.

HOMEROOM ORGANIZATION

THE Homeroom Organization was formed for the purpose of keeping the student body in closer touch with the Student Government. Once each month the Homeroom Chairmen meet and receive from the President of the Student Body a report on the activities of the Student Government. The Chairmen then relay this information to their respective homerooms. In addition, the Homeroom Chairmen aid in such worthwhile activities as clothing collections, Community Chest drives, Red Cross drives, and many others that concern all the homerooms.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

IN 1942, the present constitution of the student body of New Hanover High School was drawn up. It provides for three main branches of Student Government as well as various other subdivisions.

All legislative powers are vested in a student legislature, which consists of ten representatives from each class. The president and vice-president of the student body are at the head of this branch and are elected from the senior class. Other officers are: president pro-tem, clerk, and sergeant-at-arms, and are elected from the membership of the legislature. The powers of the legislature are to make the necessary laws for students and to try cases of impeachment of student body or class officers.

Executive authority is vested in an executive council headed by the president and vice-president of the student body and composed of a director of finance, a director of elections, a director of social activities, a director of club activities, and a chief marshal. The director of finance is manager of the school store. The chief marshal heads a force of marshals appointed by himself with the approval of the president, and serves as chief prosecutor of all cases tried before the student court. Eight social marshals elected by the legislature are also under the jurisdiction of the chief marshal. This council administers the laws passed by the student legislature.

Judicial powers of the student body are vested in a student court composed of three seniors and two juniors and elected by the legislature. This court meets once a week to try all cases of infraction of student government laws.

An advisory board of two faculty members are appointed by the principal from five nominations submitted in order of preference by the student legislature. One member serves as adviser to the executive council, and the other member serves as an adviser to the student court. Both together are advisers to the student legislature.

In addition to the central organization of the student government, there is a homeroom organization composed of a chairman from each homeroom. These chairmen meet once a month to receive a report from the president of the student body on activities of student government. It is the duty of the chairmen to relay this information to their respective homerooms.

The Student Government was organized for students and by the students in order to encourage initiative and responsibility on the part of the students.

HANOVERIAN

ONCE upon a time there were fourteen New Hanover High Schoolers who had charge of getting out a yearbook called the HANOVERIAN.

The editor-in-chief, Douglas McKoy, had the heel-uva job of keeping the staff on its toes and hard at work, helping each individual when the going was tough.

First, on the HANOVERIAN calendar, was the choice of publisher and photographer: Everett Waddey and Wooten Moulten.

Next came the subscription drive. The business manager, Harry Wellott, had charge of this, but all of us pitched in and helped. Almost any time during the fall you would find Jane Head, Katharine Harriss, or Jack Baldwin taking subscriptions—580 of them—in 121 or 215. The drive closed with Tommy Head and his band playing in chapel for the subscribers.

The feature staff, with the photographic editor, George Darden, Pat Hardwick, his assistant, and the editor-in-chief made an alphabetical card file of seniors. On these cards Betty Jean Duff typed the information about each senior which the feature staff, headed by Emma Kingoff, had collected.

Katharine Harriss and George Clark, feature assistants, turned out rhymes by the score. Emma Kingoff had charge of getting the class history, the class poem, and the last will and testament written.

Then George Darden and Pat Hardwick came into the spotlight. They made individual appointments with the photographer for all seniors and class officers at times that would least interfere with classes, and arranged for all group pictures. Various staff members assisted the photographer at designated times.

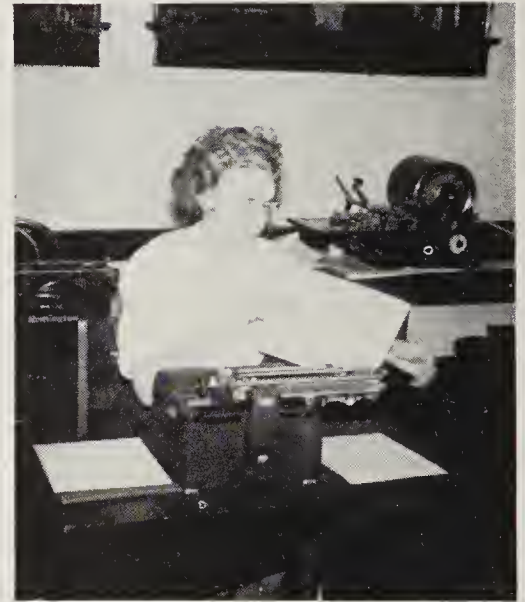

The senior class chose the superlatives in a vote conducted by the feature staff, and the photographic editor took their pictures. George could be seen at any time and place taking snapshots of teachers and students. Pat's ready wit came in handy when she annotated the snaps.

Jack Baldwin and Harry Wellott tramped the town selling space in the HANOVERIAN advertising section to Wilmington concerns. Jane Head kept account of the finances and could balance the books in the bat of an eyelash.

The job of the managing editor, Elizabeth Evans, was to take charge of the arrangement of the annual and the planning of each page.

Jane Reynolds, the club editor, compiled all the information about each club and organization. She sent notices, collected money, and arranged for the clubs to be included in the photographic editor's list for appointments. Elizabeth and Jane also helped the clubs with ideas for the arrangement of their pages.

Planning and drawing each divisional page, sketching the background for the senior pages, and designing the cover—these were the duties of our capable art editor, Kathryn Kester, who carried out the theme of the HANOVERIAN, "The transition from war to peace," in all her art work.

June Greenlee and Betty Jean typed fast, furiously, and accurately on all the written material. The typewriter became their second home.

Barksdale, Miss Virginia Walsh, and Miss De Lon Kearney, without whom the 1946 HANOVERIAN would not have been possible, our great appreciation for their unfailing and able assistance.

Each member of the staff has enjoyed

At last came the final phase, although by no means the least difficult—that of amassing all the material and compiling it into a book form called a dummy, which was immediately christened "Dora." It was with a mixture of relief and regret that we finally sent "Dora" off to be published.

The staff wishes to express to Miss Anne working on the HANOVERIAN, and hopes that we have edited a year book of which you, the student body, can be proud. To next year's seniors we wish to say, "Continue to improve upon the HANOVERIAN, as we aspire to have done this year."

—DOUGLAS MCKOY.

THE Glee Club, at present directed by Miss Sarah Robinson, was formed for the purpose of developing in New Hanover High School an appreciation of finer music and the pleasure which comes from working in a chorus group. Anyone who enjoys singing and has a reasonable knowledge of music or voice may try out for admittance. Among the programs presented by the Glee Club in the past year have been the annual Christmas concert, the operetta New Moon by Sigmund Romberg, and many special programs for civic clubs of Wilmington.

THE O'Henry Literary Society is one of the largest and most popular clubs in the school. The purpose of the club is to create a greater interest in contemporary and classic literature.

Each year the society gives a dance, and the profit gained is used for awards in its annual short story contest, which any high school student may enter.

As soon as is possible, a silver cup is to be purchased, on which each winner's name is to be engraved.

This year the society presented the English Department with an album of records to be added to its collection for classroom use.

Any student with an interest in literature is invited to become a member of this club.

THE Scribblers' Club is one of the oldest clubs in New Hanover High School. The purpose of this club is to encourage creative writing. At the meetings, which are held twice a month, the members discuss things of literary interest. Twice a year a Scribblers' magazine is published containing the best work of members of the club. The Scribblers' Club hopes that it may continue to make contributions to the literary life of New Hanover High School.

THE Dramatic Club, also spoken of as the Thespians, is one of the largest and most enjoyable clubs in New Hanover High School. Its purpose is not only to instruct students in acting, but also to coach them in the principles of make-up, staging, and direction. All of the members look forward each year to the presentation of its annual three-act and one act plays. All of the work in connection with these plays is done by the students, and the tryouts for the speaking parts are open to everyone. Tryouts are held at the beginning of each year at which time the new members are selected for the next year. This year there were over fifty students trying out, proving that the Dramatic Club boasts wide student participation.

THE purpose of the Diversified Occupations is to develop workers who will be capable of performing their duties quickly efficiently, economically, and satisfactorily. This organization provides initial employment under the protection and sympathetic guidance of the school; it almost guarantees employment immediately upon completion of high school; it provides a knowledge of the demands of a particular job; it develops acceptable business behavior; it stimulates a sense of responsibility; it provides credit toward graduation; it enables students to earn money while still in school; it is an aid in overcoming shyness and lack of confidence.

THE symbol of the Girl Reserves is a triangle within a circle. The triangle stands for the mental, physical and spiritual side of life of every girl reserve. The circle stands for a balanced life, and circles of friendship around the world. The purpose is to develop members in the three fields mentioned above. For mental progress there are educational programs, and work shops classes. For physical enjoyment dances, basketball, softball, and other sports. The devotional at every meeting and various vesper services throughout the year help members to grow spiritually. Since being organized the club has had an international stunt night for world fellowship; it has also been helping with the war relief for Holland, and is now undertaking a project to collect money to purchase a public address system for the Y. W. C. A.

Even though the club was just organized this year it is growing rapidly. Within the next few years it will have a large group of girls working together for the good of all.

GIRLS should make the Hi-Y Club one of the goals of their high school career. A girl who is chosen as a member of the club must have a high scholarship record and a Christian character. She promises to fulfill the following requirements: clean living, clean athletics, clean speech and clean scholarship. Though just organized in recent years, it has supported many worthy causes. Annually it honors the faculty and parents at a tea. There are four chapters consisting of freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

THE Wilmington Chapter of the boys' Hi-Y was one of the first to be organized in the South. Today it consists of four chapters. The basis on which boys are elected into membership is leadership, scholarship, and Christian character. Every boy should deem it an honor and privilege to be chosen to the club. It is not to be dealt with lightly but with serious intent of cooperating to the fullest extent in helping the Hi-Y serve the school and community. Over a long period of time, the Hi-Y Clubs have presented annually a minstrel, an entertainment that has now become an institution.

Record crowds filled the stands and led by the cheerleaders cheered the boys to victory, five out of nine games, tying one game.

The game with Winston-Salem on Thanksgiving Day chalked up another coveted win for the Gridstones.

New Hanover High School was honored when two of the Seniors were picked to play in the "Shrine Bowl Game."

Co-operation and good fellowship made this a bang-up year for the "Wildcats."

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

FOR the information of those who are dubious, we, the Class of '46, are of sound mind, body, and soul. Having supposedly established our sanity, we hereby unburden ourselves of copious possessions we no longer have use for, hoping our successors will accept them in the well-meaning manner with which we bequeath them as stipulated below.

First: To the school as a whole we leave our love, and repentance for our many misdemeanors.

Second: To the Freshmen and Sophomores we leave . . . goodbye.

Third: As individuals the following leave their meager ownings to the rising Seniors of '47:

I, LIB HELLEN, do will and bequeath my unlimited and natural charm to June Andrews, realizing (as usual) that she doesn't need this help.

I, JOHN HEARN, do will and bequeath my unwordly character to "Football" Smith, with the sincere wish that within the next few years he will begin to study in earnest at New Hanover High School.

I, JANE SPRUNT, do will and bequeath my reserved seat in Miss Adkin's room (I think I'm leaving at last!) to Senior Dickie Andrews.

We, JACK MARCUS, GEORGE CLARK and KENNETH ROGERS, do will and bequeath our novel and influential ways to any worthy threesome who feel they can uphold the reputation.

I, JANE REYNOLDS, do will and bequeath my art of making timely remarks in government class to Mellie Barlowe.

I, CYNTHIA JOHNSON, do will and bequeath my numerous significant nicknames to Flora McIver as she is well shaped for the part.

We, The brains (ELIZABETH EVANS, BETTY JEAN MARSHBURN, BARBARA STERNBERGER, HAMPTON FRADY, BILL PETERS, etc.), do will and bequeath our extra units to Don Hyatt and Fred Hatch with the hope that they will be able to graduate soon.

I, KATHRYN SONDERMAN, do will and bequeath my much envied buckskin saddle shoes to Betty Walter who is desperately in need of them.

In Witness Whereof, the said Class of '46 do here unto set our hand and affix our seal. Signed, sealed, published, and declared by the said Class of '46 as for and to be their last will and testament in the presence of us, we do hereunto subscribe our name as witnesses thereof.

Signed: Senior Class, of '46.

Blanche,

I have enjoyed being in homeroom and History with you and also walking together to English.
Maybe we will be in some classes together next ^{year}. You surely are a sweet girl!

Love,

Marian

Stanche,

you're one of the sweetest gals I've ever known and I really do enjoy you!! Remember all our fine times and my crush on Brother!!
